FOR MILADY'S DRESS

Special Cable Despatch to Tim Sen on New

Your Hersels. Copposite, 1929, by The SUN 280 New York Hersels. Ponts, Aug. 15 .- Milady's gowns and capes will be liberally trimmed with Russian for this year, according to the rue de la Paix style "fixers," although just how the Russian fur will get here, in view of the Allied blockade against Russia, is still a mystery. Kolinsky-not the Polish general-always has been popular, but there is a Episcopal Clurch for many years, and cheaper and better wearing Russian promises to take its place among the American and European bourgeoisis, lamb and Astrakhan dyed pearl gray.

AMERICANS CEASE

YORK HERALD. Commight, 1920, by THE SUN-IND NEW YORK HERALD. Panis, Aug. 15 .- Americans no longer are buying diamonds as in the years before the war, according to French Jewellers. As a result a serious trade crisis exists, throwing thousands out of work, especially in Paris, Antwerp the retail trade in the United States

American purchases have been reduced greatly in the last six months, partially because of the depreciation in exchange Antwerp and Amsterdam claim 25,000 cutters, or more than 80 per cent. of and France still maintain high inmortation taxes on rough stones. It is being suggested that if that tax were repealed the trade might revive, in addition to which it would strengthen
